VO (EC) No. 1907/2006 (REACH-regulation), duty to inform according to article 33

Ladies and gentlemen, under REACH, some products, for example treated wood, are subject to a duty to inform. According to article 33 of the REACH regulation, this is the case if the product contains over 0.1% of a particularly alarming substance (SVHC-substances). These substances are published in the candidate list for certification according to article 59 paragraph 1 and 10 and made available to the public under <http://echa.europa.eu>.

The products sold by us do not contain any SVHC-substances according to the currently available ECHA (European Chemicals Agency) in a quantity above 0.1%.

If in future a product purchased by you should turn out to contain more than 0.1% of a substance newly added to the SVHC-list, we will inform you accordingly and without being prompted, as prescribed by law.

Kind regards

Gebhard Dünser
